

Darrell and Monica Buttram

The Buttrams serve in numerous countries as evangelists and missions team leaders for student, family, and ministry teams.

We are small church pastors in West Virginia who also serve as short term evangelists and ambassadors for Church of God World Missions. In addition to world evangelism, we lead two different types of teams on missions ventures. First, we recruit and lead teams of students to work with children and youth abroad. Second, we lead teams of pastors and ministry leaders to encourage and equip indigenous ministers in their respective countries. By leading teams, we are able to help connect the US church with missions projects abroad by fostering missionary experiences for global kingdom impact.

We have a rich history and heritage of pastoral and missionary experience giving us the opportunity to see international harvest while helping others experience World Missions first hand. We are living proof that even the smallest of congregations can have international impact.

Some of our greatest experiences have been seeing over 1,000 people come to Christ in one night in Ecuador, ministering to hundreds of underprivileged students in Ugandan schools, training and equipping hundreds of pastors in South America and Africa, and watching teenagers receive a call to missions while serving with our teams. We have also enjoyed connecting US pastors with churches and ministries on the on the other side of the world and building inter-denominational pastoral prayer cohorts throughout Uganda.
