

Joshua and Amy Montgomery

Joshua and Amy Montgomery work in multiple countries in the areas of evangelism, leadership development, church planting, and education.

We are currently located in a very diverse area of Southern California as we pastor a church within the Inland Empire. However, our missions work is continually expanding from a few countries to now over twenty different countries throughout the world. This includes places within Europe, South America, Africa, and Asia. Our mission work can simply be explained through our G.R.O.W. model:

- GENERATE by seeing people saved, new churches and schools planted, new outreaches established, and leadership developed on multiple levels.
- REDUPLICATE missionaries, ministers, workers, and ministries.
- OBLITERATE misconceptions of Christianity through apologetics.
- WORKMATE by partnering with multiple ministries and people to accomplish God's work.

It was at the age of twelve that I first felt called to work in missions ministry. From that point on it has been my heart to reach the lost, help those in need, and develop leaders that continuously reach people in the areas in which they live. Thankfully, the Lord sent the perfect ministry partner into my life, my beautiful wife Amy, and her heart for those in need has helped to advance this ministry and reach groups of people that I could never on my own.

Through the years we have witnessed thousands of people saved, new churches and schools planted, leaders disciplined, and countless opportunities for the Gospel to spread. There have been so many instances within the ministry that have made such an impact within my life. From praying for hundreds in the altar in South America, to the leadership development in Europe, to helping plant orphanages and churches in various countries. All of these have helped to form the perspective that I now have for missions.
