

Chuck and Sherry Quinley

Chuck and Sherry Quinley help young people in unreached nations become bold disciples in the age of media.

Sherry and I are career missionaries. We've spent most of our lives in Asia raising six kids and "Building Big People". We help emerging leaders from SE Asia develop their skills and personal depth so they can accomplish God's mission for their lives. Thank you so much for supporting us in Asia so we can continue this urgent work.

Our world is in a time of great transition. Today's young leaders must succeed in the age of media and technology.

Our home base is our MediaLight Creativity Center in Northern Thailand where we work with young leaders from 40 countries. We want them to develop spiritual depth and world class communication skills. They need to become content creators who declare the gospel in their own languages and build communities around their Christ-centered content.

God is raising up a new generation of messengers who have moved beyond being mindless consumers of media. We are honored to work with these leaders as they take their place at the front of God's work in their nations. Contact us if you would like to be trained.
