Multiple Languages, Finger Heart Sign

There are more than 7,000 languages in the world! That means that the word "hello" can be said more than 7,000 ways! Can anyone here tell me hello in a different language than English?

Most people can only speak one or two languages. When you meet someone who can speak two languages they are called bi-lingual. A person who can speak 3 languages is tri-lingual. Do you know what we call someone who can speak multiple languages? REALLY SMART!!

SPEAKING EVERY LANGUAGE IN THE WORLD

There is something you can do which will cause you to be understood in every single language known to man. That thing is called kindness. When you are kind, you speak a universal language.

You may not be able to speak fluent Mandarin (what Chinese people speak), and tell a Chinese person that you are a good friend, but you can show a Chinese person that you are just by being kind.

KINDNESS IS UNIVERSAL

ASK TWO CHILDREN TO COME FORWARD

Let's pretend that these two students speak different languages and cannot understand each other. I'm going to give one of the students $1.

GIVE FIRST CHILD $1 AND TELL THEM TO ACT OUT WHAT YOU ARE SAYING.

The first child is walking in front of the other and they accidentally drop the $1 out of their pocket. The second child sees this happen and instead of picking up the $1 and placing it in their pocket, they rush over and pick it up and tap the first child on the shoulder and hand it to them. Pointing to the child's pocket and then to the ground.

Without using any words, what has the second child conveyed to the first one?

ALLOW THE CHILDREN TO RESPOND AND THEN SEND THE TWO CHILDREN BACK TO THEIR SEATS.

QUIET KINDNESS

Let's say we are trying to show quiet kindness to an Asian child. What are some things you could do to show a child from Asia that you are kind?

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO RESPOND BY ACTING OUT THEIR SUGGESTIONS.

- smiling
- bowing
- sharing something
- fist bump
- finger sign for heart

Although you cannot speak the language of every child in the world, you can be kind to them and tell them about Jesus. "How can I tell them about Jesus if I can't even speak their language?"

There is a simple answer to that question:

BRING OUT OFFERING BUCKET

Giving in our 365 Challenge is an act of silent kindness on our part, but is greatly appreciated by the children who receive it! Just like the child who dropped their $1 and then received it back, children who receive the Good News of Jesus are VERY thankful! And you get to be the one who gives it to them!

SILENT KINDNESS

GIVING FROM THE HEART

When we give we want to hold up the heart sign as we put the money in the offering container.

SHOW THE CHILDREN THE HEART HAND SYMBOL AGAIN REMIND THEM HOW TO PLACE THEIR FINGERS

Giving is an act of kindness that cannot be ignored. When we give so that others will know Jesus, we are showing the true heart of God!

SILENT GIVING

Today when we give our offering, we are going to do so without making ANY sounds at all! We are going to allow our actions to speak louder than our words. We will show our finger hearts and place our offering in the container.

We are going to be Silent Givers

Before we give, let's pray and ask God to bless our actions and help those who receive the offering to see His kindness and know His love!

ASK A CHILD TO COME
FORWARD AND PRAY OVER
THE OFFERING
